Creating an environment in which patients can visit the clinic with peace of mind

The outpatient department of Xiamen Hospital of Traditional Chinese Medicine receives a very large number of patients every day, so maintaining continuous indoor air quality and preventing infectious diseases has always been a matter of great importance. The hospital believes that ziaino™ is a convenient and efficient solution to the problem. ziaino™ is able to inhibit bacteria and deodorise air, continuously ensuring clean indoor air and effectively preventing the spread of influenza and other diseases.
