Panasonic Technology

Hammering and shaping steel makes it both stronger and more flexible.

Subjecting the steel to high temperatures increases its hardness, durability, and wear-resistance.

Grinding produces a smooth, acute-angle blade with outstanding sharpness.

A stringent inspection process ensures that every blade meets uncompromising quality standards.

JAPANESE BLADE TECH

Blades are the fundamental technology in any shaver, and Panasonic's blades are the direct descendant of the traditional art of the Japanese bladesmith. Made of the finest steel, they are forged and ground to become exceptionally hard, strong, and sharp. Highest-level technology and skill come together in blades of incomparable quality.
