- Ensure the earth pin on the mains plug is securely connected to prevent electrical shock.
- Do not touch the mains plug with a wet hand. (This may cause electrical shock.)
- Do not use any mains lead other than that provided with this TV. (This may cause fire or electrical shock.)
- Do not damage the mains lead. (A damaged lead may cause fire or electrical shock.)
- Do not move the TV with the lead plugged in the socket outlet.
- Do not place a heavy object on the lead or place the lead near a high-temperature object.

If you find any abnormality, remove the mains plug immediately!

Power source
- This TV is designed to operate on 220-240 V, 50 / 60 Hz AC.

Do not remove covers
NEVER modify the TV yourself
(High-voltage components may cause serious electrical shock.)
- Have the TV checked, adjusted, or repaired at your local Panasonic dealer.

Keep liquids away from the TV

This is not considered a malfunction and is not covered by the warranty.

Typical still images
- Programme number and other logos

FAQs

Before requesting service or assistance, please follow these simple guides to resolve the problem. If the problem still persists, please contact your local Panasonic dealer for assistance.

White spots or shadow images (noise)
- Check the position, direction, and connection of the aerial.

Neither image nor sound is produced
- Is the TV in “AV mode”?
- Is the mains lead plugged into the socket outlet?
- Is the TV turned On?
- Check Picture Menu (p. 24) and volume.

An error message appears
- Follow the message’s instructions.
- If the problem persists, contact the authorized Service Centre.

“VIERA Link” function does not work and an error message appears
- Confirm the connection.
- Turn the connected equipment on and then switch the TV on. (p. 36)

Contrast is reduced
- Contrast is lowered in the following conditions without any user operation for a few minutes:
  - no signal in DVB or AV mode
  - selected invalid programme
  - selected radio service
  - displayed menu

Pixel Statement
- An image on a LCD or Plasma TV screen is created by many small groups of dots known as pixels (which is similar to the image in a newspaper). It also naturally follows that higher panel resolutions contain more pixels. To create a colour image, each pixel consists of three tiny coloured dots (known as sub-pixels), one each of red, green and blue. Each one of these dots is precisely controlled by the electronics of the TV to produce the picture.
- Whilst Panasonic maintains the highest standards in manufacturing technology and processes in the construction of these panels, there are a number of allowable pixel/subpixel failures that still allow the panel to be defined as a good panel. It is not possible to guarantee absolutely no pixel loss.

FAQs

Problem: Sound is unusual

- Set the sound setting of the connected equipment to “2ch L.PCM”.
- Check the “HDMI1 Input” setting in the Sound Menu. (p. 24)
- If digital sound connection has a problem, select analogue sound connection. (p. 35)

Problem: After DVB Auto Tuning only some or no DVB services are found

- Check to ensure your area is covered by DVB transmissions. (www.dba.org.au/)
- Check that the aerial and antenna cable are designed for DVB. For your safety, the aerial and cable should be inspected / installed by a licenced installer that should comply with Australian Standard AS1417.1.

  Note: If you live within 5-10 Km of DVB transmission towers, a combined VHF / UHF aerial should be adequate. Outside this area, separate VHF and UHF aerials provide superior reception performance.
- If you live in a unit or apartment, check to ensure the Master Antenna TV (MATV) system is designed for analogue and DVB-T reception. Please consult your body corporate. (www.dba.org.au/)

Problem: Pictures from external equipment are unusual when the equipment is connected via HDMI

- Is the HDMI cable connected properly? (p. 40)
- Turn Off the TV and equipment, then turn them On again.
- Check an input signal from the equipment. (p. 44)
- Use an equipment compliant with EIA/CEA-861/861B.

Problem: Aerial connection when using DTV and VCR / DVD Recorder

- To maintain optimum signal quality from TV aerial, use a TV aerial splitter (as illustrated) when connecting two or more equipments to the same aerial.

!Aerial connection diagram

Problem: Picture regularly breaks up on some programmes, or “No Signal” message

- Check “Signal Display”. (p. 31)
  If “Signal Quality” or “Signal Strength” are displayed in red or constantly changing, check aerial.
  If problem persists consult your local TV aerial installer.
- Check that the aerial and antenna cable are designed for DVB. For your safety, the aerial and cable should be inspected / installed by a licenced installer that should comply with Australian Standard AS1417.1.
- Interference (known as impulse noise) from household appliances such as light switches, fridges etc may cause picture break up and / or audio distortion. Use high quality quad shielded coaxial cable fly lead between TV and antenna wall socket to minimise impulse noise pickup. If problem persists consult your local TV aerial installer.
- When “No Signal” message is displayed check TV aerial connection.
- The received signal may be too weak to allow the TV to reliably lock to the desired “No Signal” programme to generate a stable picture. Repeat the tuning procedure (p. 31). If problem persists consult your local TV aerial installer.

Problem: Picture very infrequently breaks up on some or all programmes

- Electrical atmospheric interference caused by local or distant lighting storms or heavy rain with wind in “leafy” locations may cause pictures to break up and audio to mute or distort momentarily.
- Impulse noise interference from an infrequently used electrical appliance, or a passing vehicle or lawn mower with a “noisy” ignition system.
