FAQs

Before requesting service or assistance, please follow these simple guides to resolve the problem. If the problem still persists, please contact your local Panasonic dealer for assistance.

White spots or shadow images (noise)
- Check the position, direction, and connection of the aerial.

Neither image nor sound is produced
- Check the TV is turned on.
- Check the mains lead is plugged into the TV and the socket outlet.
- Check the TV is in AV mode.
- Check the correct input mode is selected.
- Check the Picture Menu (p. 29, 30) and volume.
- Check all required cables and connections are firmly in place.

Black and white picture
- Check that the output of the external equipment matches the input of the TV.

[VIERA Link] function does not work and an error message appears
- Confirm the connection. (p. 71, 72)
- Turn the connected equipment on and then switch the TV on. (p. 73)

There may be red spots, blue spots, green spots and black spots on the screen
- An image on a LCD or Plasma TV screen is created by many small groups of dots known as pixels (which is similar to the image in a newspaper). It also naturally follows that higher panel resolutions contain more pixels.
- To create a colour image, each pixel consists of three tiny coloured dots (known as sub-pixels), one each of red, green and blue. Each one of these dots is precisely controlled by the electronics of the TV to produce the picture.
- Whilst Panasonic maintains the highest standards in manufacturing technology and processes in the construction of these panels, there are a number of allowable pixel/subpixel failures that still allow the panel to be defined as a good panel. It is not possible to guarantee absolutely no pixel loss.

| Connecting devices such as DTV recorder / PVR / VCR etc that also require an antenna connection to the digital television | * To maintain optimum antenna signal quality, use an ‘F’ type TV signal splitter (as illustrated) when connecting two or more devices to the same antenna socket.

!Diagram of F-type antenna splitter

* Hint: Some degradation of the DTV signal may occur if you are connecting the aerial through an external device (e.g. DVD Recorder or Set Top Box). In this case it is better to use a splitter and connect the aerial directly to both devices. |

| After digital TV tuning, (or re-tuning) some or all DTV channels are missing | * Check to ensure your area is covered by DTV transmissions.
* Check that the aerial and antenna cable are designed for DTV reception. If you live within 5-10 km of DTV transmission towers, a combined VHF / UHF Digital TV aerial should be adequate. Outside this area, separate VHF and UHF aerials provide superior reception performance.
* If you live in a unit or apartment, check to ensure the Master Antenna TV (MATV) system is designed for analogue and DTV reception. Please consult your body corporate. |

| Digital TV | Electrical interference caused by local or distant lighting storms, heavy rain, high wind etc. may cause picture to break up and or audio to mute / distort momentarily.
* Impulse noise interference from an infrequently used electrical appliance, or a passing vehicle or lawn mower with a “noisy” ignition system.
* Older style antenna cabling, loose fitting/corroded wall socket connections / terminals etc. |

| Picture regularly pixelates on some channels, or ‘No Signal’ message | * Check [Signal Condition] via TV Setup menu. If [Signal Quality] or [Signal Strength] is red/orange or constantly changing, check aerial/cable/connections.
* Too much signal; is [Signal Strength] always at full strength? If yes, try attenuating (reducing) the signal strength.
* Check that the aerial and antenna cable are designed for DTV reception.
* The received signal may be too weak to allow the TV to reliably lock to the selected channel to generate a viewable picture. If problem persists, consult your local TV aerial installer.
* Interference from household appliances (known as impulse noise) such as light switches, fridges etc. may cause picture break up and / or audio distortion. Use high quality quad shielded coaxial cable (RG6Q) fly lead between TV and antenna wall socket to minimise impulse noise pickup. If problem persists, consult your local TV aerial installer.
* Antenna installation may be using an aerial amplifier that is faulty or an older style aerial amplifier that was not designed for digital TV.
* Older style antenna cabling, loose fitting / corroded wall socket connections / terminals etc.
* Turn the TV off with the Mains power On / Off switch, then turn it On again. |

Note: Digital TV reception is only as good as the antenna and the antenna cabling delivering the DTV signals to the television. Reliable digital TV reception requires high quality, robust DTV signals which can only be achieved when using a TV antenna and cabling designed for digital TV reception.
* For your safety, the antenna and cabling should be inspected / installed by a licensed installer that should comply with Australian Standard AS1417.1 for Domestic installations or AS1367 for MATV installations.

| The remote control does not work or is intermittent | ● Are the batteries installed correctly? (p. 7)
● Has the TV been switched on?
● The batteries may be running low. Replace them.
● Point the remote control directly at the front of the TV (within about 7 m and a 30 degree angle of the front of the TV).
● Situate the TV away from sunshine or other sources of bright light not to shine on the TV's remote control signal receiver. |
| Parts of the TV become hot | ● Even when the temperature of parts of the front, top and rear panels has risen, these temperature rises do not cause any problems in terms of performance or quality. |
| The LCD panel moves slightly when it is pushed with a finger | ● There is some flexibility around the panel to prevent damage to the panel.
● The panel might move slightly when it is pushed with a finger, and clattered sound might be heard. This is not a malfunction. |
| Clattered sound might be heard | ● The connected USB device might cause this error. Remove the device and turn the TV off with Mains power On / Off switch, then turn it on again.
● Check foreign objects are not inside the USB port. |
| Overcurrent error message appears | ● Follow the message’s instructions.
● If the problem persists, contact your local Panasonic dealer or the authorised service centre. |
