- Avoid installing the unit in damp or humid environments, such as bathrooms or swimming pools.
- 999 and 112 can be dialed on the product after accessing the outside line for the purpose of making outgoing calls to the BT emergency (999) and (112) services.
The method for accessing an outside line differs depending on the SIP server. For details, confirm the features of the SIP server.

For Users in Australia

WARNING

- Please ensure that a separate telephone, not dependent on local power, is available for emergency use.
- This equipment will be inoperable when mains power fails.
- No "000" or other calls can be made from this device during a mains power failure.

For Users in Australia and the United Kingdom

- This unit is capable of being used in conjunction with hearing aids fitted with inductive coil pick-ups. The handset should be held as for normal conversation. For operation, the hearing aid should be set to its "T" position or as directed in the operating instructions for the hearing aid.
- This unit is designed to aid the visually handicapped to locate dial keys and buttons.

For Users in New Zealand

- This equipment shall not be set to make automatic calls to the Telecom '111' Emergency Service.

PTC General Warning

- The grant of a Telepermit for any item of terminal equipment indicates only that Telecom has accepted that the item complies with minimum conditions for connection to its network. It indicates no endorsement of the product by Telecom, nor does it provide any sort of warranty. Above all, it provides no assurance that any item will work correctly in all respects with another item of Telepermitted equipment of a different make or model, nor does it imply that any product is compatible with all of Telecom's network services.

The Use of IP Networks through the PSTN

- Internet Protocol (IP) by its nature introduces delay into speech signals as each data packet is formulated and addressed. Telecom Access Standards recommends that suppliers, designers and installers using this technology for calls to or from the PSTN refer to ITU E Model requirements in the design of their networks. The overall aim is to minimize delay, distortion and other transmission impairments, particularly for those calls involving cellular and international networks, which already suffer extensive delay.

Echo cancellation

- Echo cancelers are not normally required in the Telecom PSTN because geographic delays are acceptable where CPE return loss is maintained within Telepermit limits. However, those private networks making use of Voice over IP technology are required to provide echo cancellation for all voice calls. The combined effect of audio/VoIP conversion delay and IP routing delay can cause the echo cancellation time of ≥ 64 ms to be required.

Important Notice

- Under power failure conditions this appliance may not operate. Please ensure that a separate telephone, not dependent on local power, is available for emergency use.
- No "111" or other calls can be made from this device during a mains power failure.

*1 This number depends on the service being used.

Using the Local Phonebook

You can store up to 500 phone numbers in the telephone along with names for easy access. You can also set unique ringer patterns for different categories to identify incoming calls. All Phonebook items are stored in alphabetical order. For security purposes, you can lock the Phonebook.

- To search for an item in the Phonebook, see “Searching for an Item in the Local Phonebook”, Page 39.
- To refer to another phonebook that can contain more than 500 items, see “Using the Remote Phonebook”, Page 41.

Note

- We recommend that backups are made of the phonebook data, in case the data becomes unrecoverable due to product malfunction.
- A single entry (i.e., name) can have multiple phone numbers. Since the phonebook capacity is limited by the number of stored phone numbers, storing multiple phone numbers in an entry decreases the maximum number of entries.
- In addition, if your phone service provider supports the following phonebook data, you can download it via the network.
In a name that exceeds 24 characters, the exceeding characters will be deleted.
Phone numbers that exceed 32 digits are invalid.

Private Ring

You can organize entries in the Phonebook into one of 9 Private Ring Categories. It is possible to set a different ringer pattern*1 for each category. When the displayed Caller ID*2 matches a phone number or name stored in the Phonebook, the telephone rings according to the Private Ring Category settings.
