Trimming to an even length

Holding the clipper with the power switch facing outwards, trim slowly while crisscrossing from various directions to avoid missing any spots.

- Do not use when hair is wet. Wet hair may cling to the skin or bunch up, making it difficult to trim.
- To maintain sharpness, remove hair trimmings between usages.
- Before trimming, comb hair to remove any tangles.

Hair

21st Century Caesar

The Caesar cut became popular in the 90s, and variants remain hip today. What ties them all together are the more or less horizontal bangs and the short, rounded look overall. The version presented here has rough bangs for modern flair.

Beard

Five O'Clock Shadow

Don't fight that heavy beard—just tame it a little. Five o'clock shadow adds a touch of spice to a formal style, making a sexy, cool impression.

Clothes

Suit and Tie

The trick is to rock the suit with a touch of rebellion. The first step is to get a conservative suit that fits you perfectly—no compromises! The second step is to accessorize and personalize. The tie and pocket square are two places where a splash of color is in order. Or make the tie and pocket square conservative while letting the shirt stand out. Don't forget cufflinks, belts, and shoes as further opportunities to project a style!

Hair

Slicked Back Undercut

In the undercut, the top stays long while the sides and back are short. The contrast between the two layers gives this cut its daring, creative style. You can part the top, tease it rough, or just let it hang. This version is slicked back for a dashing style.

Beard

Full Beard

Projecting a relaxed mood, this style complements casual or business casual wear.

Clothes

Business Casual

There's no need to stick to the standard polo and khakis! Business casual gives the young gent plenty of latitude to express himself. Combinations of shirts, sweaters, jackets, chinos, and denim are almost limitless. The only thing to avoid is anything stained (that wonderful old pair of sneakers), torn (pre-stressed jeans), too formal (black brogues), or otherwise uncool—you be the judge!

Hair

Side Part Undercut

The side part is back! In combination with the undercut, this style looks classic and modern all at once. The geometry particularly highlights thick and wavy hair. Accentuating this cut with product is another way to enhance the suavity of the look!

Beard

Stubble

This is the slightly shorter cousin of 5 o'clock shadow, but it's effect is similar: adding a bit of appealing insouciance to the overall look!

Clothes

Casual-Formal

The difference between this style and business-casual is subtle. Instead of deriving from the corporate world, it comes from the creative mixing of your favorite casual and creative wear. No suit, no tie. Instead, combine a blouson or blazer with denim or a chino. On top, your options include t-shirts, button-downs, and knits. Accessorize to your heart's content: leather shoes, or Chelsea boots, scarfs, gloves, and glasses. Combining light and dark colors is definitely in, with white, navy, beige, brown, and pastels as favored shades.

Hair

Crew Cut

Simplicity never goes out of style. Once cut, this style is a cinch to wash and requires little to no combing. Those sporting a crew cut used to require frequent trips to the barber to keep it short and fresh—but when you have your own trimmer, you're always looking good!

Beard

Chin Strap

The chin strap follows the jawline in a neatly trimmed "strap" of hair. Try it with or without a moustache to get just the look you want.

Clothes

Rough

This is a look you make as plain or glam as you please. So long as it isn't too fancy or formal, anything can work: oversized coats, t-shirts, pullovers, bombers, black leather and dark denim jackets, jeans, and chinos. A wide range of accessories is similarly possible: work and combat boots, sneakers, bold jewelry (silver in particular), chains, gloves, scarves, and sunglasses. Dark colors are, but a fresh white t-shirt is always welcome.

Clothes

Sporty

International football stars have been leading the way in this style, which is characterized by understated urbanity. Combine athletic and training wear with simple jackets, t-shirts, sweat shirts, denim, and chinos. Restrained, simple hues are at the core of the look, but you won't draw a red card for throwing on a shirt or accessory that pops with color or has hip-hop appeal.
