Everyone is permitted to copy and distribute verbatim copies of this license document, but changing it is not allowed.

This License Agreement applies to any software library or other program which contains a notice placed by the copyright holder or other covered work as permitted in subsections below.

In other cases, permission to use a particular library in non-free programs enables a greater number of people to use a large body of free software. For programs which use a library in a critical manner, this library cannot be rewritten to avoid the license.

GNU LESSER GENERAL PUBLIC LICENSE TERMS AND CONDITIONS FOR COPYING, DISTRIBUTION AND MODIFICATION

0. This License Agreement applies to any software library or other program which contains a notice placed by the copyright holder or other covered work as permitted in subsections below.

1. You may copy and distribute verbatim copies of the Library or a portion of it, either for an end-user application or a larger program containing the Library, in both source and binary forms:

a) The modified work must itself be a software library.

b) You must cause the files modified to carry prominent notices stating that you modified it.

c) You must cause the whole of the work to be licensed at no charge to all third parties under the terms of this License.

2. You may link an object file containing parts of the Library with other code to produce an executable containing those parts of the Library, provided that you obey the terms of Subsection 2a and 2b.

3. You must cause the files modified to carry prominent notices stating that you modified it.

4. If you distribute the Library under the terms of subsections above, you must also do one of the following:

a) The modified work must itself be a software library.

b) You must cause the files modified to carry prominent notices stating that you changed the files and the date of any change.

c) You must cause the whole of the work to be licensed at no charge to all third parties under the terms of this License.

d) If a facility in the modified Library refers to a function or a table of data to be supplied by an application program that uses the facility, other than as an argument passed when the facility is invoked, then you must make a good faith effort to ensure that, in the event an application does not supply such function or table, the facility still operates, and performs whatever part of its purpose remains meaningful.

(For example, a function in a library to compute square roots has a purpose that is entirely well-defined independent of the application. Therefore, Subsection 2d requires that any application-supplied function or table used by this function must be optional. If the application does not supply it, the square root function must still compute square roots.)
These requirements apply to the modified work as a whole. If identifiable sections of that work are not derived from the Library, and can be reasonably considered independent works based on the material themselves, then this License, and its terms, do not apply to those sections when you distribute them as separate works. But when you distribute the same sections as part of a whole which is a work based on the Library, the distribution of the whole must be considered a derivative work under copyright law, which must be distributed under the terms of this License. (Thus,并发症 is it not the intent of this section to claim rights or contest your rights to work written entirely by you; rather, the intent is to exercise the right to control the distribution of derivative or collective works based on the Library. In addition, mere aggregation of another work not based on the Library with the Library (or with a work based on the Library) on a volume of a storage or distribution medium does not bring the other work under the scope of this License.

You may choose to distribute derivative works based on the Library under a different license, with or without royalty, provided that you also include the original source code. However, any such license may not impose a substantial restriction on the distributions of the derivative work, e.g., by restricting its use, modification, or distribution. The purpose of this section is to ensure that the Library remains free and open to all users without discrimination.

You must give prominent notice with each copy of the work that the Library is included, and that the Library itself comes with these notices. This means that a notice must accompany every copy of the derivative work, and must be prominently placed on the disk medium itself if the derivative work is on a physical medium.

The Library may be modified, distributed, and sold by you in any way you choose. However, any such license may not impose a substantial restriction on the distributions of the derivative work, e.g., by restricting its use, modification, or distribution. The purpose of this section is to ensure that the Library remains free and open to all users without discrimination.

You can make and distribute copies of the Library just as you would copies of any other program. You can alter it, either to add features or to report bugs. You can also redistribute it in modified form, with or without royalty, provided that you also include the original source code. However, any such license may not impose a substantial restriction on the distributions of the derivative work, e.g., by restricting its use, modification, or distribution. The purpose of this section is to ensure that the Library remains free and open to all users without discrimination.

You may not copy, modify, sublicense, link with, or distribute the Library except as expressly provided under this License. Any attempt otherwise to copy, modify, sublicense, link with, or distribute the Library is void, and will automatically terminate your rights under this License. However, parties who have received a copy of the Library under Sections 1 and 2 are not derived from the Library, and can be reasonably considered independent works based on the material themselves, then this License, and its terms, do not apply to those sections when you distribute them as separate works. But when you distribute the same sections as part of a whole which is a work based on the Library, the distribution of the whole must be considered a derivative work under copyright law, which must be distributed under the terms of this License. NO WARRANTY

15. BECAUSE THE LIBRARY IS LICENSED FREE OF CHARGE, THERE IS NO WARRANTY FOR THE LIBRARY, TO THE EXTENT PERMITTED BY APPLICABLE LAW.

EXCEPT WHEN OTHERWISE STATED IN WRITING THE COPYRIGHT HOLDERS AND/OR OTHER PARTIES PROVIDE THE LIBRARY "AS IS" WITHOUT WARRANTY OF ANY KIND, EITHER EXPRESSED OR IMPLIED, INCLUDING, BUT NOT LIMITED TO, THE IMPLIED WARRANTIES OF MERCHANTABILITY AND FITNESS FOR A PARTICULAR PURPOSE. THE ENTIRE RISK AS TO THE QUALITY AND PERFORMANCE OF THE LIBRARY IS WITH YOU. SHOULD THE LIBRARY PROVE DEFECTIVE, YOU ASSUME THE COST OF ALL NECESSARY SERVICING, REPAIR OR CORRECTION.

16. IN NO EVENT UNLESS REQUIRED BY APPLICABLE LAW WILL ANY COPYRIGHT HOLDER, OR ANY OTHER PARTY WHO MODIFIES AND/OR REDISTRIBUTES THE LIBRARY AS PERMITTED ABOVE, BE LIABLE TO YOU FOR DAMAGES, INCLUDING ANY GENERAL, SPECIAL, INCIDENTAL OR CONSEQUENTIAL DAMAGES ARISING OUT OF THE USE OR INABILITY TO USE THE LIBRARY (INCLUDING BUT NOT LIMITED TO LOSS OF DATA OR LOSS OF PROFIT), EVEN IF SUCH HOLDER OR OTHER PARTY HAS BEEN ADVISED OF THE POSSIBILITY OF SUCH DAMAGES.

END OF TERMS AND CONDITIONS

How to Apply These Terms to Your New Libraries

If you develop a new library, and you wish to allow redistribution even in modified form, you must make the corresponding changes in this license to state, as a condition of redistribution, that the library must be modified and redistributed for that purpose and that you have modified it.

If you convey a covered work, whether conveying the source code or a modified version, you must make the corresponding changes to state that the work as a whole is free (as a whole and uncombined with any other software):

If you convey a work that contains a notice stating that it includes no warranty, and which you have conveyed under this license, you must add a notice stating that the reciever of the work is free to add terms or otherwise change the conditions of this License. You may not convey a covered work if you do not have a right under the license to do so.

If you convey a covered work, you must take the following actions for each recipient who would be required to perform such acts in connection with the original work:

The licenses for most software are designed to take away your freedom to share and change it. By contrast, the GNU General Public License is intended to guarantee your freedom to share and change free software--to make sure the software is free for all its users. This General Public License applies to most of the Free Software Foundation's software and to any other program whose authors commit to using it. (Some other Free Software Foundation software is covered by the GNU Lesser General Public License instead.) You can apply it to your programs, too.

When we speak of free software, we are referring to freedom, not price. Our General Public Licenses are designed to make sure that you have the freedom to distribute copies of free software (and charge for this service if you wish), that you receive source code or can get it if you want it, that you can change the software or use pieces of it in new free programs; and that you know you can do these things.

To protect your rights, we need to make restrictions that forbid anyone to deny you these rights or to ask you to surrender the rights. These restrictions translate to certain responsibilities for you if you distribute copies of the software, or if you modify it.

For example, if you distribute copies of such a program, whether gratis or for a fee, you must give the recipients all the rights that you have. You must make sure that they, too, receive or can get the source code. And you must show them these terms so they know their rights.

We protect your rights with two steps: (1) copyright the software, and (2) offer you this license which gives you legal permission to copy, distribute and/or modify the software.

Also, for each author's protection and ours, we want to make certain that everyone understands that there is no warranty for this free software. If the software is modified by someone else and passed on, we want its recipients to know that what they have is not the original, so that any problems introduced by others will not reflect on the original authors' reputations.

Finally, any free program is threatened constantly by software patents. We wish to avoid the danger that redistributors of a free program will individually obtain patent licenses, in effect making the program proprietary. To prevent this, we have made it clear that any patent must be licensed for everyone's free use or not licensed at all.

The precise terms and conditions of copying, distribution and modification follow.

GNU GENERAL PUBLIC LICENSE

TERMS AND CONDITIONS FOR COPYING, DISTRIBUTION AND MODIFICATION

0. This License applies to any program or other work which contains a notice placed by the copyright holder saying it may be distributed under the terms of this General Public License. The "Program", below, refers to any such program or work, and a "work based on the Program" means either the Program or any derivative work under copyright law: that is to say, a work containing the Program or a portion of it, that either verbatim or with modifications and/or translated into another language. (Hereinafter, translation includes inclusion of additional materials, as well as modification of the software itself.) Any revised version of a work having added materials is considered derived from the original version.

1. You may copy and distribute verbatim copies of the Program's source code as you receive it, in any medium, provided that you conspicuously and appropriately publish on each copy an appropriate copyright notice and disclaimer of warranty; keep intact all the notices that refer to this License and to the absence of any warranty; and give any other recipients of the Program a copy of this License along with the Program.

2. You may modify your copy or copies of the Program or any portion of it, thus forming a work based on the Program, and copy and distribute such modifications or work under the terms of Section 1 above, provided that you also meet all of these conditions:

a) You must cause the modified files to carry prominent notices stating that you changed the files and the date of any change.

b) You must cause any work that you distribute or publish, that in whole or in part contains or is derived from the Program or any part thereof, to be licensed as a whole at no charge to all third parties under the terms of this License.

c) If the modified program normally reads commands interactively when run, you must cause it, when started running for such interactive use in the most ordinary way, to print or display an announcement including an appropriate copyright notice and a notice that there is no warranty (or else, saying that you provide a warranty) and that users may redistribute the program under these conditions, and telling the user how to view a copy of this License. (Exception: if the Program itself is interactive but does not normally print such an announcement, your work based on the Program is not required to print an announcement.)

END OF TERMS AND CONDITIONS

If you distribute these files and the above notice, you may add an endorsement to the program indicating that you changed these files and the date of any change. This must be placed before any other notice.

Incorporating support for the free library into your own programs is permitted if these programs use a modified version, provided that the modified version is designated in its documentation as having altered functionaled and that you include an appropriate copyright notice in each file and an appropriate copyright notice in an acknowledgment notice. This notice must be placed before any notice that refers to the General Public License.

This License is also suitable in use in association with the GNU operating system, with the name "cygwin" as part of a medium name.

This License Corresponds to the GNU General Public License version 2, January 1991, published by the Free Software Foundation; it is free software; you can redistribute it and/or modify it under the terms of the license; you can also modify it if you have the necessary rights for doing so. The license text is included in the file COPYING. A copy of the license may also be obtained from the Free Software Foundation; 59 Temple Place, Suite 330, Boston, MA 02111-1307 USA.
These requirements apply to the modified work as a whole. If identifiable sections of that work are not derived from the Program, and can be reasonably considered independent and apart from the context of the other portions, then the rights given to you for those sections are not affected by this License. Sections 3 and 4 do not apply to those sections when you distribute them as separate works. When you distribute a complete copy of a Work or derivative Work, the recipients of the distribution receive the rights you license by this License, if any, plus a right to use the Work without otherwise violating the License, and its terms, provided that you also do one of the following:

a) Accompany it with the complete corresponding machine-readable source code, which must be distributed under the terms of Sections 1 and 2 above on a medium customarily used for software interchange;

b) Accompany it with a written offer, valid for at least three years, to give any third party, for a charge no more than your cost of physically performing source distribution, a complete machine-readable copy of the corresponding source code, to be distributed under the terms of Sections 1 and 2 above on a medium customarily used for software interchange;

c) Accompany it with the information you received as to the offer to distribute corresponding source code.

The source code for a work means the preferred form of the work for making modifications to it. For an executable work, complete source code means all the source code for all modules it contains, plus any associated interface definition files, plus the scripts used to control compilation and installation of the executable.

If a modified version is regarded as only minor in comparison with its predecessor, the original copyright holder may designate it as a “derivative work” and not require additional rights on distribution.

If you develop a new program, and you want it to be of the greatest possible use to the public, the best way to achieve this is to make it free software which everyone can redistribute and change under these terms. To do so, attach the following notices to the program. It is safest to attach them to the start of each source file to most effectively convey the exclusion of warranty; and each file should at least have the copyright line and a notice telling the user that the terms of the License, if not shown, are available from any other place.

No warranty for modifications

If you modify or redistribute the Program, you must make a good faith effort to ensure that your modifications are functionally compatible with the original Program in all ordinary use of the Program. If you do not make a good faith effort, you must so indicate in any notices to users of the Program.

No warranty for other programs

If you distribute the Program as part of a system containing other programs, you may only distribute those other programs under the terms of this License if you incorporate the terms of this License into your system or distribution. If you cannot incorporate the terms, you must have a special exception or permission for each receiving party to whom you are distributing the Program as part of a system containing other programs.

End of terms and conditions

proprietary programs. If your program is a subroutine library, you may consider it more useful to permit linking proprietary applications with the library. This is what you want to do, use the GNU Lesser General Public License instead of this License.
